Please see the paragraphs below for relevant information specific to your request as well as the enclosed FBI FOIPA Addendum for standard responses applicable to all requests.

Based on the information you provided, we conducted a main and reference entity record search of the Central Records System (CRS) per our standard search policy. This is the final release of information responsive to your FOIPA request. Your request for a waiver of fees has been granted, and the documents are enclosed. This material is being provided to you at no charge.

Enclosed are cross-references that are identifiable with the subject of your request. Record retention and disposal is carried out under supervision of the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA), Title 44, United States Code, Section 3301 as implemented by Title 36, Code of Federal Regulations, Part 1228; Title 44, United States Code, Section 3310 as implemented by Title 36, Code of Federal Regulations, Part 1229.10.

A record that may be responsive to your Freedom of Information/Privacy Acts (FOIPA) request has been transferred to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA). If you wish to review these records, submit a Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request to NARA, Special Access and FOIA, 8601 Adelphi Road, Room 5500, College Park, MD 20740-6001. For your information, a search of the indices to our Central Records System reflected there were additional records potentially responsive to your Freedom of Information/Privacy Acts (FOIPA) request. We have attempted to obtain this material so it could be reviewed to determine whether it was responsive to your request. We were advised that the potentially responsive records were not in their expected location and could not be located after a reasonable search. Following a reasonable waiting period, another attempt was made to obtain this material. This search for the missing records also met with unsuccessful results.

Please refer to the enclosed FBI FOIPA Addendum for additional standard responses applicable to your request. "Part 1" of the Addendum includes standard responses that apply to all requests. "Part 2" includes additional standard responses that apply to all requests for records about yourself or any third party individuals. ## FBI FOIPA Addendum

As referenced in our letter responding to your Freedom of Information/Privacy Acts (FOIPA) request, the FBI FOIPA Addendum provides information applicable to your request. Part 1 of the Addendum includes standard responses that apply to all requests. Part 2 includes standard responses that apply to requests for records about individuals to the extent your request seeks the listed information. Part 3 includes general information about FBI records, searches, and programs.

Part 1: The standard responses below apply to all requests:

- (i) 5 U.S.C. § 552(c). Congress excluded three categories of law enforcement and national security records from the requirements of the FOIPA [5 U.S.C. § 552(c)]. FBI responses are limited to those records subject to the requirements of the FOIPA. Additional information about the FBI and the FOIPA can be found on the www.fbi.gov/foia website.
- (ii) Intelligence Records. To the extent your request seeks records of intelligence sources, methods, or activities, the FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of records pursuant to FOIA exemptions (b)(1), (b)(3), and as applicable to requests for records about individuals, PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(1), (b)(3), and (j)(2)]. The mere acknowledgment of the existence or nonexistence of such records is itself a classified fact protected by FOIA exemption (b)(1) and/or would reveal intelligence sources, methods, or activities protected by exemption (b)(3) [50 USC § 3024(i)(1)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that any such records do or do not exist.

Part 2: The standard responses below apply to all requests for records on individuals:

- (i) Requests for Records about any Individual—Watch Lists. The FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of any individual's name on a watch list pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(7)(E) and PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(7)(E), (j)(2)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that watch list records do or do not exist.
- (ii) Requests for Records about any Individual—Witness Security Program Records. The FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of records which could identify any participant in the Witness Security Program pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(3) and PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(3), 18 U.S.C. 3521, and (j)(2)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that such records do or do not exist.
- (iii) Requests for Confidential Informant Records. The FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of confidential informant records pursuant to FOIA exemptions (b)(7)(D), (b)(7)(E), and (b)(7)(F) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552 (b)(7)(D), (b)(7)(E), and (b)(7)(F)] and Privacy Act exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. § 552a (j)(2)]. The mere acknowledgment of the existence or nonexistence of such records would reveal confidential informant identities and information, expose law enforcement techniques, and endanger the life or physical safety of individuals. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that such records do or do not exist.

Part 3: General Information:

- (i) Record Searches and Standard Search Policy. The Record/Information Dissemination Section (RIDS) searches for reasonably described records by searching systems, such as the Central Records System (CRS), or locations where responsive records would reasonably be found. The CRS is an extensive system of records consisting of applicant, investigative, intelligence, personnel, administrative, and general files compiled by the FBI per its law enforcement, intelligence, and administrative functions. The CRS spans the entire FBI organization, comprising records of FBI Headquarters, FBI Field Offices, and FBI Legal Attaché Offices (Legats) worldwide; Electronic Surveillance (ELSUR) records are included in the CRS. The standard search policy is a search for main entity records in the CRS. Unless specifically requested, a standard search does not include a search for reference entity records, administrative records of previous FOIPA requests, or civil litigation files.
  - a. Main Entity Records – created for individuals or non-individuals who are the subjects or the focus of an investigation
  - b. Reference Entity Records- created for individuals or non-individuals who are associated with a case but are not known subjects or the focus of an investigation
- (ii) FBI Records. Founded in 1908, the FBI carries out a dual law enforcement and national security mission. As part of this dual mission, the FBI creates and maintains records on various subjects; however, the FBI does not maintain records on every person, subject, or entity.
- (iii) Foreseeable Harm Standard. As amended in 2016, the Freedom of Information Act provides that a federal agency may withhold responsive records only if: (1) the agency reasonably foresees that disclosure would harm an interest protected by one of the nine exemptions that FOIA enumerates, or (2) disclosure is prohibited by law (5 United States Code, Section 552(a)(8)(A)(i)). The FBI considers this foreseeable harm standard in the processing of its requests.
- (iv) Requests for Criminal History Records or Rap Sheets. The Criminal Justice Information Services (CJIS) Division provides Identity History Summary Checks – often referred to as a criminal history record or rap sheet. These criminal history records are not the same as material in an investigative “FBI file.” An Identity History Summary Check is a listing of information taken from fingerprint cards and documents submitted to the FBI in connection with arrests, federal employment, naturalization, or military service. For a fee, individuals can request a copy of their Identity History Summary Check. Forms and directions can be accessed at www.fbi.gov/about-us/cjis/identity-history-summary-checks. Additionally, requests can be submitted electronically at www.edo.cjis.gov. For additional information, please contact CJIS directly at (304) 625-5590.

NEW JEWEL MOVEMENT LEADER ARRESTED IN GRENADA

MAURICE BISHOP ON ARMS CHARGE

SIX HOURS before the Union Jack was lowered to usher Independence to this troubled island, New Jewel Movement leader Maurice Bishop was arrested and placed on an arms charge.

Some 60 policemen swooped on his St. George's home and after a search stated that they had found arms and ammunition.

Prime Minister Eric Gairy told newsmen afterwards that a rifle with a telescopic lens attached, similar to that which was used in the assassination of former American President, John F. Kennedy, was also found Bishop, whose father was killed during a riot last month, was kept in custody.

Members of the New Jewel Movement were in touch with their lawyers and a magistrate yesterday, in an attempt to fix bail.

Bishop's wife Angela, who was allowed to visit him said that she found her husband in a bare cell stripped to his underclothes. He had no complaint about his treatment except that he was twice threatened with licks by security policemen.

Also, just about an hour before Independence, a mysterious fire destroyed a two-storey wooden building owned by Michael Sylvester, a lawyer who appeared for the NJM recently.

The building which was still under construction is on a hill overlooking Holiday Inn Hotel. The fire raged while the government hosted a lavish cocktail party at the hotel.

Prime Minister Gairy himself provided further drama. In an about-face, in his brief Independence address, he offered to hold peace talks with the Opposition.

From JEFF HACKETT, St. George's

Thirty hours earlier he had indicated that that was out of the question since he had already unsuccessfully stretched out the "Olive Tree" and would look to constitutional means to bring things back to normalcy.

Enemies

In his three minute Independence speech, after castigating the Opposition, describing it as "noisemaking" and as "enemies of progress" he said that he was willing to sit around the conference table to bring about a reconciliation.

Mr. Gairy stated: "Now is not the time for re-creation and reprisal but rather for goodwill. Now is the time for unity. Now is the time for reconciliation and I now appeal to all Grenada in its totality to join heads and hands to repair the damage done and to build a Grenada for posterity."

Prime Minister Gairy

went on: "I invite all Opposition factions to let me hear from them as soon as possible regarding their reaction to my appeal."

He charged also that those "enemies of progress had done more damage than hurricane Janet."

He added that "the tourist industry had been virtually crippled and that small businessmen were seriously affected." Mr. Gairy told newsmen afterwards that he would like to meet the Opposition as quickly as possible.

He also said that he was sorry that Opposition Leader Herbert Blaize was not around for the celebrations.

Mr. Blaize who was premier seven years ago has been in a Jamaican hospital with a back injury for the past month.

The Independence ceremony watched by thousands took place at Fort George overlooking the Harbour and went off without a hitch.

There was the flag raising ceremony, singing of the national anthem, a fireworks display and a 21 gun salute by the Baillants.

Bishop spoke of the current situation in Grenada, both political and economic, and of the struggles of the NJM against Gairy's government.

Compiled by:

Caribbean Unity Conference, Washington D.C.

The Caribbean island of Grenada with an estimated population of 120,00 is due to receive independence from Britain on February 7, 1974. Traditionally, for countries gaining independence, it is usually a time for rejoicing, but however for Grenada this promises to degenerate into an 'Independence Massacre' because of the forces that have been set in motion. The situation in Grenada has been brought about by political, social and economic conditions that are today prevalent throughout the Caribbean. The following facts give an outline of the current crisis:

1. The New Jewel Movement, an organisation whose stated objective is the liberation of the people of Grenada called on Premier Eric Gairy to resign on the basis of 27 charges which included violence, corruption and mis-management of Government.

2. Premier Eric Gairy responded to those 27 demands by promising to bring 54 charges against the New Jewel Movement, these including treason and sedition.

3. Violent threats were issued by Premier Gairy to the Movement and its supporters.

4. Six members of the New Jewel Movement [REDACTED] Maurice Bishop.

[REDACTED] were attacked and brutally beaten by Premier Gairy's "secret police" (better known as the notorious 'Mongoose Gang'). The victims were subsequently denied legal and medical assistance; were forced to clean up their blood which flowed in the city jail; and were then told that they would have to drink this.

[REDACTED] Bishop, [REDACTED] had to be flown to Barbados and Trinidad for a series of major operations.)

5. Thousands reacted sharply to this naked show of violence on the part of the Government. Protesting Police brutality, an ultimatum for the Government to resign or face an island-wide strike at the end of December was incorporated in a no-confidence resolution passed by representatives of 22 organisations, - trade union civil servants, teachers, etc.

This Committee of 22 comprised the following: The Grenada Technical and Allied Workers Union, Grenada Civil Service Association, Seamen and Waterfront Workers' Union, Grenada Union of Teachers, The Commercial and Industrial Workers Union, The Progressive Labour and General Workers Union, Grenada Hotel Association, Grenada Employers Federation, The Chamber of Commerce, Grenada Medical Association, Grenada Law Society, Grenada Masters and Mistresses Association, Grenada Jaycees, the Lions Club, the Rotary Club, Gas Dealers Association, League of Concerned Citizens, Taxi Owners and Drivers Association, the Inter-Church Council and Church heads.

6. In true spirit of Caribbean unity, other Caribbean peoples responded positively to the plight of their Grenadian Brothers and Sisters. For example; 1) The Oilfield Workers Trade Union (Trinidad and Tobago), led by George Weekes, initiated an embargo on oil and oil products to the island. Venezuela later took similar action. 2) The dockworkers in Barbados and Trinidad have refused to handle any goods going to or coming from Grenada. 3) Among other Caribbean organisations, the following have publicly expressed support for the liberation struggle: ASCRIA (Guyana), Afro-Caribbean Liberation Movement (Antigua), National Joint Action Committee (Trinidad and Tobago), Organisation of Black Cultural Awareness (St. Vincent) and People's Progressive Movement (Barbados).

7. Because of his quest for independence from Britain, Premier Gairy stated that he had conceded to several demands of the New Jewel Movement and the Committee of 22. These included the total disbanding of police aides (the Mongoose Gang, now 1,200 in number); the setting of a Commission of Inquiry to investigate allegations of brutality; and the placing [redacted] on leave. [redacted]

b7C

8. In radio broadcasts and public meetings, Premier Gairy made it perfectly clear that he tolerated certain actions because HIS independence from Britain was at stake. At a mass meeting held in the Market Square, St. Georges, on December 23, 1973, the 'Prime Minister-designate' emphatically stated that since the documents for independence had been passed in the British Houses of Parliament and signed by the Queen, Britain can no longer interfere in the local affairs of Grenada. Part of the text of this speech:

"The nonsense which I stuck, we are not prepared to tolerate it anymore."-----"Today, if anyone of you, regardless of your calling, regardless of your profession, if anyone if you should do anything to embarrass or bring down this Government, as God is above, I'll deal with you!"

9. The Commission of Inquiry responsible for looking into the crimes of the Government have recessed until after Independence.

10. Mass demonstrations are held almost daily throughout the island.

11. There is an island-wide strike which has crippled the country. There is no electricity, no telephone service, schools are closed, and most business places have shut down resulting in a shortage of food and essential services. The airport too has been closed.

1. Mr. Rupert Bishop, father of Maurice Bishop, and a one-time Gairyite was gunned down by the Mongoose Gang recently. He was then chopped across the stomach before being dragged through the streets.

SUPPORT THE GRENADIAN LIBERATION STRUGGLE !

13. At the same time as the above incident, the President of the Housewives Assoc. had to jump 30 feet from a building and dodge flying bullets while running through sewerage canals to save her life. She eventually sought refuge in a convent before fleeing the country. Three nuns from this convent, one of whom is the Principal of a striking high school were subsequently ordered to leave the country.

14. Because of the squandermania practices of the Gairy regime, Grenada's treasury is now empty and consequently civil servants and even his police forces are not being paid. Gairy has thus instructed the latter to get their living from those businessmen who oppose him. The result - wide-spread POLICE looting on striking businesses.

15. Premier Gairy has posted an order for [redacted] Maurice Bishop, [redacted] "dead or alive." They and other members of the Committee of 22 are therefore now in hiding.

b7c

16. By questioning her 'sanity' and 'integrity', the people of Grenada forced the Governor, Dame Hilda Dymally to threaten the Government with her resignation if she did not receive a vote of confidence from the people. Obviously furious at this apparent encroachment of his power, Gairy thundered that it was his "prerogative to recommend a Governor" and that Dame Hilda's action was, "an attempt to remove the authority.... from his hands to those of the people." He then hurriedly asked the Queen to terminate her services.

17. In the light of the present situation the Queen would not be sending any representatives to the Independence celebrations. However her Government has granted Grenada a gift of $50,000 in addition to a loan of $5 million!

18. The State Department of the U.S. Government has issued a call for all Americans on the island to leave immediately, at the same time, strongly discouraging any citizen from going there.

19. Yet both the British and U.S. have battle-ships cruising the area, "carrying out ROUTINE exercises."

20. On the other hand though a Caribbean Head of State has spoken quite clearly on the issue. In the Miami Herald, October 29, 1973 Prime Minister Errol Barrow, Barbados stated:

"Grenada is not becoming independent, Gairy is becoming independent. He is getting complete freedom of action without any supervising force. I make a distinction between Gairy's independence and the independence of the people of Grenada."

Grenadians fleeing the terror of Gairy's regime have sought asylum in Barbados and Trinidad.

21. But the mass of the people remain and are steadfast in their struggle. It is our revolutionary task to support them.

[REDACTED] The PAC is not known to have any substantial funds and the SPAC is currently requiring delegates and observers to the Tanzanian conference in 6/74 to pay their own ways which will, of course, severely restrict both the size and the desired diversified makeup of those attending. The number of people who can afford the expense of from $1,000 to $2,000 to attend the conference is not large and would be virtually all upper middle class. An advance payment of $200 is being required to arrange transportation which to date has not been arranged. The chartered plane originally planned may now be replaced by commercial flights which will raise the costs for delegates and observers. With the Congress scheduled within two months, it seems certain that any funds available to the SPAC, in the United States at any rate, would be used to firm up travel arrangements for United States participants since they must get there if the Congress is to have any real significance as far as the United States is concerned.

The information in referenced communications has been furnished to the appropriate offices with instructions to develop information regarding Bishop's activities in the United States. You will be furnished the results when completed for transmittal [REDACTED]

NOTE:

Bishop is a Grenadian revolutionary attempting to overthrow the present Government of Grenada under Premier Eric Gairy. Bishop visited the United States and Canada in 3/74 to solicit funds, bring people up to date on the situation in Grenada and persuade various government representatives not to recognize Gairy's government in Grenada which became independent of Great Britain on 2/7/74.

This investigation is based on information which indicates that the subject is engaged in activities which could involve a violation of Title 18, United States Code, 2383 (Rebellion or Insurrection), 2384 (Seditious Conspiracy), 2385 (Advocating Overthrow of the Government), 956 and 958-962 (Neutrality Matters - including illegal exportation of war materials), 951 (Registration Act and related statutes), and/or the Act for the Protection of Foreign Officials and Official Guests of the United States.

On May 23, 1974, a confidential source in a position to furnish information in the New York Caribbean Community advised he had not heard of subject's presence in New York for several weeks. The source described Bishop had been in New York in the past months making speeches on behalf of the New Jewel Movement (NJM), the dissident movement in Grenada which opposes Grenadian Prime Minister Eric Gairy.

Source volunteered that [redacted]

For the information of Newark, MAURICE BISHOP has been identified as a leader of the New Jewel Movement (NJM) in Grenada. New Jewel Movement is the dissident movement in Grenada which opposes Grenadian Prime Minister ERIC GAIRY. A confidential source <sup>advised</sup> that a wealthy white hotel owner from Grenada named JAMES MILNE is in sympathy with NJM and BISHOP, but is no longer active in Grenadian politics as a result of a beating he received on 11/18/73 at the hands of GAIRY's secret police, the "Mongook Gang".

As a result of a subpoena duces tecum, the long distance telephone records for MILNE's telephone, were obtained and a review of these records indicate that on 12/18/73 and 12/19/73 MILNE contacted Robert Reid Associates, Inc., 1270 Avenue of the Americas, NYC.

[REDACTED] JAMES KENNETH MILNE, [REDACTED] voluntarily appeared at the Tampa Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI). He advised that he had learned [REDACTED] that FBI Agents had come to his home in October 1974, to interview him, but he was out of the country at the time. He had returned to the United States to spend Christmas with his family, and came to the Tampa Office so that he could answer any questions the FBI wished to ask him before he returned to Grenada, West Indies. MILNE was advised of the identity of the interviewing Agents and the nature of the inquiry, and he furnished the following information:

MILNE is a citizen of Grenada, West Indies, where he was born on May 17, 1924. MILNE served with the Royal Canadian Air Force as a navigator on bombers in Europe during World War II. After World War II, he returned to Grenada where he began an import export business called the James Milne (Grenada) Limited. Over the years, this business proved to be extremely successful and he was able to invest in approximately 236 acres of land in Grenada, the Grenadines, the Dominican Republic, in Caracas, Venezuela, and a home and several lots in Florida. He estimates that his net worth is approximately $3,000,000.

For the past several years there has been much unrest and dissension on Grenada due to the dictatorial type actions of Grenada's Prime Minister ERIC GAIKY. MILNE has opposed Prime Minister GAIKY from the beginning of GAIKY's career in the 1950's, when GAIKY got the uneducated masses of Grenada to follow him by preaching hatred of the white population and the planters and businessmen who are largely of a lighter complexion than the masses. To carry out his aims, GAIKY has often used police brutality, threats and has instilled fear in the people. In a like manner, GAIKY has opposed MILNE and has tried on several occasions to discredit MILNE and to force him into submission. In 1972 while attending an open political rally, MILNE was severely beaten by GAIKY's special police by GAIKY's specific command. On another occasion, GAIRY made several libelous claims against MILNE's character, and MILNE charged GAIRY with malicious libel for these claims. MILNE was able to win his case on appeal and this court decision cost GAIRY considerable money, and GAIRY has never forgotten this. Because of this open hostility between GAIRY and MILNE, and because of similar violent acts perpetrated by GAIRY against those who opposed him, MILNE moved his family from Grenada and settled them in Tampa, Florida. He and his family have obtained permanent resident status in the United States, and they plan to remain in the United States indefinitely. MILNE has been trying to liquidate his holdings in Grenada, but because of conditions presently on the island he has been unsuccessful in finding buyers who are willing to invest. If MILNE can liquidate his possessions in Grenada, he will reinvest his money in the United States and remain here permanently. Now, he is forced to leave his family to return to Grenada to look after his possessions and to try to sell them.

MILNE has been a member of and supported the Grenada National Party (GNP) from its inception. This party has always been opposed to Prime Minister GAIRY, and is considered by GAIRY's "labor government" as the "rightest party" and the "party of the haves."

[REDACTED] MILNE is not and never has been a member of the New Jewel Movement (NJM) in Grenada. He characterized the NJM as a communist organization whose principal leaders are MAURICE BISHOP, LLOYD NOEL and RADIX KENRICH. MILNE disclaimed any sympathies toward communism and stated that the only thing he and the NJM have in common is their mutual dislike for GAIRY and his dictatorial and oppressive government.

b7C

MILNE said that the population of Grenada is predominately black. There are three political parties on Grenada in opposition to GAIRY: the GNP, which is headed by HERBERT BLAIZER; the NJM, which is headed by MAURICE BISHOP; and the United Peoples Party, which is headed by Dr. ETHELSTAN FRIDAY. MILNE was unaware of any Black Muslim movement on Grenada.

TP [redacted]

b7E

MILNE believed that the only political group in Grenada that could be considered communist is the NJM. MILNE has heard that the NJM has received some financial support from a leftist organization based on Trinidad, and known to him only as the NJAC. MILNE knew of no financial support from the United States or from Canada that was going to the NJM, and has not heard of any group in the United States called the Washington, D.C. Support Committee. MILNE has given support to the NJM by joining with them in demonstrations against GAIRY, and by furnishing them the use of one of his vacant buildings for their purposes. MILNE noted that he previously had given the GNP use of this same building for their purposes. MILNE has since requested the NJM to give him back his building, but they have not done so as yet. Since the building was previously unoccupied, the current occupancy of the NJM represents no financial loss to MILNE. MILNE is not offering the NJM any other financial help, other than the use of the above building.

Prime Minister GAIRY controls all of the unions on Grenada except the Seaman's Union and the Waterfront Union. The Seaman's and Waterfront Unions, along with most of the planters and businessmen on Grenada are opposed to GAIRY. A group of these businessmen, planters and leaders of the Seaman's and Waterfront Unions united and formed a group which was known as the Committee of Twenty-two to protest GAIRY and his brutal police tactics. This group was formed just prior to November 1973, when Grenada was to gain its independence. This group opposed independence under GAIRY or, in fact, any government under GAIRY. As a result of the efforts of this committee, a large scale strike took place on Grenada which froze almost all shipping into or from the island. The island's economy was severely crippled for several months. As a result of this strike, a special commission of inquiry into the acts of police brutality and denial of legal rights by the GAIRY government was set up. The chairman of this commission is [redacted] Kingston, Jamaica. [redacted] head of the legal faculty at the Mona Branch of the University of West Indies and one other individual, whose identity was unknown to MILNE, made up this commission. MILNE himself was called before this commission and furnished information against GAIRY. From information available to MILNE, the commission has just about finished its inquiry and although the results have not been publicized, MILNE understands that it will not be favorable towards GAIRY. MILNE opined that even if the commission's report condemns GAIRY's brutality and denial of

b7C

TP [REDACTED]

b7E

civil and legal rights, GAIRY will disclaim the commission and continue in the same manner. MILNE feels that conditions are deteriorating fast in Grenada. He understands that many of GAIRY's close supporters are becoming disenchanted with his form of government, and many of them are turning against GAIRY. MILNE feels that the time is soon when the people of Grenada will refuse to have GAIRY as their leader, and will demand him to leave. MILNE does not feel that GAIRY will do so easily, and that there will probably be bloodshed. MILNE is against dictatorships in any form and is tired of the unrest on Grenada. As soon as he can liquidate his assets on Grenada he plans to permanently move to the United States. MILNE has never owned a yacht named La Paloma. A yacht by that name has been to Grenada, and MILNE has been aboard her one or two times. MILNE used to own a 36 foot Century Sport Fisherman but sold it about one year ago. This ship, however, had been inoperable about two years prior to its sale.

The following description of MILNE was obtained through interview and observation:

Re: Maurice BISHOP - Grenada

VISIT TO MONTREAL

11. On Tuesday evening, February 11, 1975 Maurice BISHOP [ ] spoke at a meeting held at McGill University in Montreal. There were about 90 persons present [ ]

b6
b7C

12. Maurice BISHOP was the first speaker. He outlined the history of Grenada since the 1950's and traced the political developments with a view to showing how the island changed from colonialism and British Imperialism under Eric GAIRY whom he described as an american imperialist puppet. He also described the change from "Plantation Exploitation" to "Commercial Exploitation" and from a "Foreign Bourgeoisie to "A Local Bourgeoisie". He also made mention of the development of the tourist industry by foreign multi-national corporations such as "Holiday Inn". He also said that American racketeers have been entering Grenada. One of these was [ ] a white American who is a shady character and who has been given the concession for a lobster industry. This was only a front, he said. [ ] was really shipping narcotics by stuffing them inside the lobsters. He said that [ ] was GAIRY's friend and that they were working in concert. It would appear that [ ] is wanted in the Unites States by either the F.B.I. or a gang which he robbed, and said that, recently, three men arrived there enquiring about [ ]

b7C

13. BISHOP outlined the plans of the NJM which was to educate the masses and to raise the living standards of the people by agricultural co-operatives. They had to begin from "square one" and at "grass roots" if they were to achieve real freedom and independence. They have decided to adopt scientific socialism to achieve this as it was the only way that the people could be mobilized and helped. As a result, they have divided the island into 105 village groups for agricultural co-operative programs and 57 divisions for educational purposes. GAIRY, he said, had stopped giving aid to the secondary schools except the one owned by the Government. The result was that fees rose from $25 per term to $70 per term and most parents found it impossible to send their children to school.

Re: Maurice BISHOP - Grenada

14. The NJM, so far, had organized 27 co-operatives and 17 schools but were finding it difficult to obtain premises as landlords were afraid of co-operating with them. They had attempted to infiltrate the trade unions, especially the waterfront workers, but GAIRY had used several strategies and much money to defeat their purpose. They were trying to form new unions but saw little hope in that. That was why they had embarked on agricultural co-operatives and education. BISHOP did not ask for financial assistance from the audience. BISHOP mentioned that the economic conditions in Grenada were deplorable. Civil servants and teachers had not yet been paid for January and salaries were usually one month behind. Cod-fish was about $4 per pound, a tin of salmon was about $2.50 and sardines were being sold at $0.69 per tin. The situation, he said, was rapidly deteriorating and he blamed U.S. Imperialism for the state of affairs. GAIRY, he said, was doing nothing to ameliorate the situation.

15. The next speaker was [redacted] who informed the people of the struggle of blacks in Africa against imperialism and neo-colonialism.

b7c

16. While in Montreal BISHOP stayed at residence [redacted] BISHOP was also in contact [redacted]

17. At 1:30 PM February 12, 1975 BISHOP left Montreal for Washington D.C., via Delta Airlines Flight #215 enroute New York City.

18. The foregoing information was obtained from reliable sources. No action is to be taken which would jeopardize the sources. No dissemination of the above material is permitted with the exception that information contained in paragraphs 11-15 inclusive may be further disseminated for official purposes providing the originator is not identified.

COMMENT

19. The most significant comment which can be made concerning BISHOP's visit is that at no time did he discuss the violent overthrow of Prime Minister GAIRY's government nor any other extreme measures as was the case during his February 1974 visit to Canada when he predicted the NJM would successfully spearhead a revolution on Grenada. Instead, GAIRY in both open and behind the door discussions stated the NJM had nothing spectacular going on at the

It seems likely that if such a quantity of weapons had been available to the NJM they would have been able to pursue a far more effective campaign against Prime Minister GAIRY. It is probable that if so many guns had been in circulation some of them would have been discovered by the police.

His reply was published on 23rd. On 18th the Daily Chronicle quoted a Reuter report which said that the "Graphic company accused him...of not showing 'sufficient tolerance and understanding of Government's policies'". In Mr. Mentus's reply he said "This is the General Manager's way of saying that I had resisted a request from him (made he said because of pressures on him from the Government) to write articles in my Sunday column praising the Government. On 3rd the Trinidad Guardian reported from St. George's "Premier Eric <sup>Grenada</sup> Gairy today withdrew his agreement to talks with the anti-Government movement...Officials with the Caribbean Conference of Churches (CCC), which sponsored the mediation team now here, said the Premier reversed his decision without advancing any reason. Leaders of the ~~New Jewel Movement~~, which heads the campaign to force Premier Gairy out of office had, in any case, made it plain that they set no store by any agreement achieved by the four-man team of mediators...Premier Gairy has made it plain to the mediation team that he will not resign. Archbishop Anthony ~~Pantin~~ of Trinidad said today they would still be meeting with all main parties, but there was no sign of any compromise emerging. Other members of the team are Guyanese lawyer, Miles <sup>Guyana</sup> Fitzpatrick, Mr. Burns Bonadie, general secretary of the Caribbean Congress of Labour, and Mr. Robert <sup>Barbados</sup> Cuthbert, Associate General Secretary of Christian Action for Development in the Caribbean (CADEC)." On 4th the same newspaper reported that the CCC team had returned to Barbados "without any tangible success...The team had recommended to Dr. Roy ~~Neehall~~, general secretary of CCC, that the CCC should make attempt <sup>Barbados</sup> to secure action at other levels in order <sup>the CARIBBEAN CONFERENCE OF CHURCHES</sup> to guarantee that human rights and freedoms be protected both now and after independence day."

Reporting from London on 6th the Advocate-News said "The British Government today turned down suggestions in Parliament that it should postpone the independence of the troubled Caribbean state of Grenada set for Thursday...Britain planned to give £2,250,000 worth of aid to the island over the next three years. But Grenada had recently had a liquidity crisis and had asked for financial assistance."

On 8th the Trinidad Guardian reported "Mr. Maurice ~~Bishop~~... Joint Co-ordinating Secretary of the New Jewel Movement, was arrested by armed Police a few hours before Grenada became independent. He was later charged with illegal possession of arms... The arrest of Mr. Bishop and the burning of a house owned by barrister Mr. Michael ~~Sylvester~~, were the only pre-Independence incidents on Wednesday night." On 9th the Advocate-News reported that at a press conference "Eric Gairy of Grenada said today that plans to assassinate him were found in the home of a member of the executive of the anti-government New Jewel movement leader... The Premier added 'There is a definite connection between the Jewel and outside subversive agents. These were plans to assassinate me by an outside Communist source.'

On 19th the Advocate-News reported "A six-man <sup>GRUP</sup> Friends of Grenada' committee has been set up in Barbados to solicit aid for Grenadians struggling for human rights in their newly independent country. Archdeacon Frederick Layne is the chairman of the <sup>Friends of Grenada</sup> committee which comprises Rev. Vivian Commissiong, Mr. Julian Marryshow, Dr. Sonia Renwick, Mrs. A.I. Rock and attorney-at-law Mr. Jack Dear, QC". On 22nd the same newspaper reported that electricity workers in Grenada "voted to return to work yesterday and power was restored... Telephone workers who, like the electricity workers are covered by the Technical and Allied Workers' Union, are also back on the job."

In an article in the Trinidad Guardian on 10th Dr. Basil Ince, Senior Lecturer at the Institute of International Relations, said: "The four independent Commonwealth Caribbean States have remained silent on the Grenada situation. This non-action has been the diplomatic move taken by these states...even a neutral statement, they believed, would have laid them open to the charge of interference in the internal affairs of a sister state. To date, and especially at the United Nations, the Commonwealth Caribbean States have unalterably refrained from commenting on the domestic affairs of any of the Associated States...Without doubt, the Commonwealth Caribbean States have political and moral obligations with respect to the treatment of Grenadian citizens in Grenada. If this is not obvious to the leaders of the Commonwealth Caribbean States then all the talk of Caribbean co-operation, Caribbean integration, CARIFTA, CARICOM, etc. rings hollow...The author holds the view that the Commonwealth Caribbean States should have issued a statement supporting the maintenance of fundamental human rights for Grenadians...The Grenada situation has brought into sharp focus the issue of proper machinery for conflict resolution in the Caribbean...This is a situation that should be rectified by the creation of a political section in the CARICOM Secretariat in Georgetown."

There was much editorial comment, particularly in the Express which published eight editorials, all taking an anti-Gairy line. On 2nd the Daily Chronicle commented "Several times within the past weeks there have been the usual timid souls wondering whether 'the time is ripe' for Grenada's independence and hopefully looking to Whitehall and the Queen to intervene. If Grenada's independence is postponed, suspended or otherwise put back or cancelled we would be in the forefront of the protests against Britain's high-handed action. Gairy's bungling notwithstanding, a man has a right to be free; a country no matter how small, how poor or how seemingly unstable has a right to independence if it wants it." On 3rd the Advocate-News commented "He will have to get the co-operation of the citizens of the country if Grenada is ever to flourish...Mr. Gairy will inevitably be forced to listen and even act to restore the state of happiness that all Grenada deserves." On 5th the same newspaper said "No one could reasonably have expected any help from the British Government. From the beginning they have connived at the evasion of the provisions of the Grenada Constitution and have collaborated with the Gairy regime in the method of achieving independence." On 6th the newspaper published a letter from the British High Commissioner in Barbados, Mr. C.S. Roberts, saying "The method by which Grenada is achieving its independence is in fact derived not from the Grenada Constitution but from the West Indies Act 1967". On 5th the Express commented "When the middle class is moved to social protest, as happened when the Committee of 22 was formed, political leaders had better watch out. The middle class has something to lose, unlike the radicals and the unemployed, and it normally will only stand up and be counted when its sense of outrage - and its feeling of security - are brought into play. What is happening in Grenada today could happen elsewhere in the Caribbean at any time, if the people let it happen. That is why it is so important for Caribbean leaders and, indeed, the Caribbean people as well to stop standing aloof on the pretext that the Grenada crisis is an "internal affair" and to become directly involved."

TRINIDAD

The Trinidad Guardian published more excerpts from the Constitution Commission Report, concluding on the 9th. On 20th it published the reservations attached to the Report by Mr. Solomon Lutchman, a member of the Commission.

On 9th the Trinidad Guardian reported that <sup>TRIN.</sup>Abdul Malik's motion "Asking that the death sentence imposed on him for murder be set aside on the ground that it was contrary to the tenets of the Trinidad and Tobago Constitution" had been dismissed.

the official and other levels - over the attitude of the Canadian media and immigration officials towards persons from this country who travel to Canada to study. Reports coming out of Canada assert that there seems to be a concerted effort by the newspapers and the television stations of that country to single out Guyanese for glaring publicity when they come up against the immigration laws...The reports indicate that the matter has reached such an alarming stage that there is no doubt that the Guyanese High Commissioner to Canada, Dr. Robert Moore, will have to step in urgently and hold discussions with the officials of that country. One source explained that for some reason the Canadian authorities and the mass media there have been led into believing that Guyana is a country from which people want to escape and that Canada is the country to which they turn their attention."

On 29th the Advocate-News reported "Caribbean black militant leaders ended a series of talks in Barbados yesterday with a two-hour exposition of their stands on issues facing the region, and an affirmation of the importance of the upcoming Pan African Congress. The militants are members of a special committee assigned the task of laying the ground-work for Caribbean representation at the Congress slated for Tanzania June 19-27. And the list of people who attended the Barbados preparatory meeting...reads: Geddes Branger and Dave D'Arbeau (Trinidad and Tobago); Robert (Bobby) Clarke (Barbados); Eusi Kwayana and Base Omo (Guyana); Tim Hector (Antigua); and Maurice Bishop (Grenada)...About the Pan-African Congress, all leaders agreed that it will be the most significant event for black people in recent times."

GRENADA

On 6th the Advocate-News reported that "The Grenada Government will ask the University of the West Indies and Commonwealth Caribbean countries for assistance to restructure and revitalise its secondary education system".

On 14th the Trinidad Guardian published an interview with Prime Minister Gairy by Therese Mills, in which Mr. Gairy said: "God has a plan for Grenada and I have the Divine Assignment to carry out the plan...Are you asking how long it will be before I leave the power and take the glory? In other words how long again before I give up the Government and become Governor-General? That is not in my hands but in the hands of the Cosmic God, and as for those calling for me to go, our party is so entrenched that I pay no attention to them."

Therese Mills GRENADA
(Apr 1974)

The same newspaper on the same day published an interview, also by Therese Mills, with Maurice Bishop, Joint Co-ordinating Secretary of the Grenada New Jewel Movement. He said: "The 1972 elections, which Gairy claims gave him an overwhelming mandate, can more properly be described as an electoral coup d'etat. Two weeks before the elections the boundaries were changed, the electoral lists were not seen by the people, transparent ballots were used, which is against the rules in a secret ballot, and 18-year-olds were denied the vote even after both Houses had passed the law."

CARIBBEAN AFFAIRS

From 2nd to 13th the Daily Gleaner published excerpts from 'Memoirs 1938-1962' which the Late Rt. Excellent N.W. Manley began writing in June 1969".

On 20th the Trinidad Guardian reported that "St. Lucia's Premier John Compton announced that general elections would be held on May 6".

TRIN.
On 19th in the Express Roderick Lewis, Social Affairs Reporter, reported on a conference of Roman Catholic TRIN. priests in Trinidad. A paper 'Indigenisation - an inescapable challenge for proclaiming the Gospel of Christ' "was prepared by a sub-committee of priests and laymen. In it, the writers observed that the race question was evident, and since the 1970 demonstrations many expatriate white priests were feeling uneasy." On 20th the Trinidad Guardian reported "the Anglican Church will take a penetrating look at the educational, cultural, economic, political and social problems in the Caribbean - for possible changes - at a regional conference in June."

JAM.
On 29th the Daily Chronicle reported that "regional lawyers ended a two-day meeting...without reaching agreement on the establishment of a Caribbean Court of Appeal...The new President of the Organisation of Commonwealth Caribbean Bar Associations, Jamaican Queen's Counsel Norman Hill, said that apart from Guyana none of the other delegations saw the setting up of a regional Court of Appeal to replace the Privy Council as a Final Court as a matter of urgency. He disclosed that the main reason put forward was that because of its remoteness from the controversy the Privy Council was likely to be more objective and unaffected by local knowledge, which was a particular problem in the small Caribbean communities."

the looting, Mr. Francis answered 'the police were afraid of the looters'. He said the police were not in a position to know what the special aides or secret police would do. None of them were attached to his department." On 16th the Express reported that Acting Police Commissioner, Osbert James "agreed...that he was wrong to swear in men with criminal records in what was known as the 'field arm of the police' last February, adding, however, that he had verbal instructions from the Cabinet Secretary, Mr. Godwin Brathwaite, to do so."

On 16th the Trinidad Guardian reported that "Grenada's Prime Minister Eric Gairy...gave evidence for five hours at a session of the hearing...restricted to lawyers connected with the probe, some witnesses and the Press...The Prime Minister said: 'I do not condone any sort of violence. I am particularly against beating any prisoner while that prisoner is in police custody'...Mr. Gairy told the Commission he was not responsible for recruiting the Police aides... 'The men responsible for actual recruiting were the senior police officers at the various police stations who would have acted in consultation with the Commissioner of Police and/or my Permanent Secretary'. Mr. Gairy said the Police aides were disbanded."

On 18th the Express reported a "classic confrontation of Premier Gairy versus Maurice Bishop, the young Grenadian lawyer he claimed planned to assassinate him and take over the Government by force... Bishop sought to introduce events as far back as 1951...The Commission then heard of the events of 1951, after ruling that it was admissible. Mr. Gairy admitted that he was convicted on a charge of disorderly conduct in 1957 and had his franchise removed for five years... Mr. Gairy admitted that he once referred to the Jewel Movement as 'solely interested in drugs and sex'...Bishop...continued to question the Prime Minister about his oft-repeated statement that he was sent by 'divine providence to rule Grenada'. Mr. Gairy replied: 'I am a mystic. We send out love waves'."

On 23rd the Trinidad Guardian reported "the opposition New Jewel Movement is now believed ready to take part in general elections - so long as 18-year-olds have the right to vote. Prominent members of the radical group have hitherto set their face against participation in elections as at present organised." On the same day the Guardian said "Prime Minister Eric Gairy has ruled out general elections in Grenada any time before the first half of 1977".
